

Firenock Review by Brett West August 2, 2008
Firenock GSH (GS)

Hey Dorge,

Just a thanks for the great customer service. I just got a chance to try out my new GS Firenocks they work fantastic! Beats the hell out of brand X! I have not had a failure yet in at least a hundred shots, ranging from 10 to 75 yards. They do cause a drop in arrow flight from 55 yards and farther, but I would expect it with adding a little weight with the Firenock; but inside of 40 yards, I believe it has helped my arrow flight, by changing my weight forward percentage . It dropped it by 4 percent. (14 to 10)

Anyway can't wait to try an get a shot on video this fall. If it happens I will send it to ya! Keep up the great work and quality workmanship. Oh and don't forget to remind everyone on how to install the batteries. I screwed mine up the first time!!!

Thanks again.
