

Firenock Review update by Court Brewer, 22th January, 2009
Firenock GA

My first shot at a deer with the firenock wasn't so great. i had a doe and fawn come in still dark so i waited till it got light enough to shoot. the doe started walking away and i decided "good enough" so i let one go and the firenock was going right to where i was aiming and then SWERVE!, "SMACK!!!" Hit her in the back leg. I watched my Firenock swerving around in the thick woods about 300 yards away for about 20 minutes and then she went across the road. She was fine. Nothing but a little flesh and muscle wound. Then the next deer I shot was that night at 20 yards. Perfect shot and pass through. I just couldn't get my bright Firenock out of the corner of my eye. (It was sticking in the ground) all in all, best lighted nock out there by far. I have tried them all and nothing compares.

Anyhow Firenocks are fricken sweet.
